Date: Monday, 21 Oktober 2024

Time: 18:00 – 20:00

The International Office and the Language Center invite you to the next Café international:

Living in Basel, living in Switzerland On the mystery of the Bebbisagg and intercultural surprises

An amusing and informative evening on a topic that not only concerns newcomers. Moving to Switzerland is accompanied by new and sometimes baffling experiences. Why is a Bebbisagg (trash bag) so important, and why is it different in every canton? Why does recycling have to be like a science? What's the significance of laundry day? And why this relentless emphasis on rules?

A panel discussion about living together with university members from across the globe in a new home—laughter and aha moments are guaranteed. When diverse ways of life collide, it can be quite challenging. The evening will focus on insights, amusing anecdotes, and getting to know each other. Afterward there will be an apéro for networking and socializing.
